DYING IN PRISON.

A Victim of the State Department's Delays.

WALLER'S FAREWELL LETTERS.

Touching Messages to His Wife and Children—He is Sinking Fast and His Death is Only a Question of a Short Time.

New York, Nov. 8.—A Recorder special from Washington says: John L. Waller is dying in the prison at Nimes.

His family who are waiting here anxiously upon the State Department do not believe that he will live another month. Letters have been received from him in which he predicts his early death. Every member of his family, and there are six of them in all, has received a touching message of farewell. He tells his wife and children that he is sinking fast and that they will probably never hear from him again.

Unless Waller was actually in the serious condition he represents, the prison censors would never have allowed his letters to be sent. He was ill when he left Madagascar. Since he has been in prison he has been sustained on invalid's food and it is now a question of only a short time before that will prove insufficient to maintain life.

DUNRAVEN AGAIN.

He Makes Charges of Cheating Against the Defender.

London, Nov. 8.—The Field will to-morrow publish a four-column statement from Lord Dunraven relative to the contest for the America's cup. Lord Dunraven opens by saying that so much has been written and said loosely concerning the races and as he has received so many requests for fuller information, he thinks it due to the yachting and general public and himself that he make a statement. He would, he adds, confine himself to the cause of his withdrawal of the Valkyrie from the races, namely: overcrowding, but that other matters had been mentioned in the cup committee's report to the New York Yacht club. He relates what occurred at the meeting of the committee held for settling the conditions of the contest and says he disapproved of the method of marking the load water line with copper tacks on deck instead of the yacht racing association's method of visible marks on stem and stern; but he made no protest. He a few days later wrote to Mr. Canfield in regard to this matter and received a verbal answer that the committee did not see the object of reconsidering the matter, but signed the agreement. The following day the first race was sailed. Continuing, he says:

Cheating is Charged.

"I am of the opinion that the Defender did not sail on her measured load water line length in the race."

He remarked that nobody interested in the Defender lived on her or her tender, the Hattie Palmer; but much material, the crews' cots, etc., was transferred backwards and forwards from the Defender to the Hattie Palmer and vice versa. Those on board the Valkyrie were well able to observe the Defender when they were alongside of her in the Erie Basin. After her first trial—with the Vigilant when the Defender went to the Erie Basin to be measured on September 6, it was obvious to everybody on board the City of Bridgeport, the Valkyrie's tender, that she was floating materially higher than on a former occasion. This, of course, was unobjectionable. The Hattie Palmer was alongside the Defender all night. Her crew was at work from dark until 1 o'clock in the morning. Early Saturday those aboard the City of Bridgeport noticed that the Defender was visibly deeper in the water than when she was measured. When he put Mr. Henderson aboard at 9 o'clock, Lord Dunraven was perfectly certain that she was four inches deeper than she was when she was measured. He was reluctant to formally complain, as it was impossible for him to verify his belief. Anyhow, nothing could have been done before the race, but when Mr. Fish went on board the Valkyrie, Lord Dunraven told him the whole case and asserted his belief that the Defender was sailing fully a foot beyond her proper length. He asked Mr. Fish to induce the committee to send a member aboard of each boat immediately after the race and have both measured forthwith, and if that was impossible to have the member stay in charge until the yachts were measured. He also asked that the load water line be marked visibly externally. No action was taken that evening beyond ordering that the boats be remeasured and marked on the following day. Nobody was placed in charge. The Defender lay all night with the Hattie Palmer alongside of her. The result was that Sunday's re-measurement obviously afforded no proof that either or both yachts had not exceeded their measured lengths in Saturday's race."

Lord Dunraven says: "My action in making this complaint has been severely criticised. I will only say that I consider it my duty to act as I did. I did not ask anything that I was not ready and willing to submit to myself."

He then proceeds to discuss the crowding at the starting line which was rendered so dangerous by the many steamers that it was impossible for the yachts to maneuver safely. Vessels were constantly passing in front of the mark boat, making it impossible to pick up the line accurately. When the Valkyrie came near the line, the mark boat was completely hidden from view. Not knowing where the line was and fearing that she might be too soon, the Valkyrie bore away and thus spoiled her start.

He gives the details of steamers washing and blanketing the racers on the reach home. The Defender, he says, was doubtless interfered with, but nothing like to the same extent as was the Valkyrie.

Judge Thurman Injured.

Columbus, O., Nov. 8.—At 11 o'clock to-night the condition of Judge Thurman was somewhat improved. The members of the family have retired leaving the distinguished patient in the care of his nurse. Dr. Whittaker, his physician, saw him at 10 o'clock and will not call again to-night unless sent for. He does not now think there is immediate danger of death. Judge Thurman is sleeping quietly. His pulse is regular but weak. His condition is that of collapse, and the physician says it is altogether improbable that he will survive long.

No bones were broken by the fall and the only wound noticeable is a slight abrasion over the hip bone. In a young person the accident would have been trivial.

PLENTY OF PIE.

Governor Lowndes Will Have Many Offices to Fill.

Baltimore, Nov. 8.—Hon. Lloyd Lowndes will have a larger list of appointments to make, more patronage to bestow and greater power when he becomes Governor of Maryland two months hence, than could fall to the lot of the executive of almost any other State in the Union. In addition to the appointment of purely State officials it is under the constitution and laws of Maryland incumbent upon the Governor, who has always heretofore been a Democrat, to appoint a large number of co-officials whose positions are in other States usually filled by popular election or by authority of the county commissioners.

By reason of the negro majority or great strength in some of the counties of Maryland it has been the policy of the State to concentrate more and more the government in the hands of the Governor. Then, too, whenever a county would go Republican the Democrats would rush a bill through the Legislature taking most of the fruits of victory from their opponents by transferring the appointments to the Governor.

In this way several of the treasurers in the counties are named by the Governor; the local school boards are all named by him; he also appoints the liquor license commissioners, police magistrates and justices of the peace for Baltimore city.

BAYARD IS DISGRACEFUL.

So Says Senator William Chandler of New Hampshire.

New York, Nov. 8.—Senator William E. Chandler, who in his New Hampshire newspaper recently predicted war between the United States and England, is at the Fifth Avenue hotel. When seen to-day by a reporter, Mr. Chandler was reading an account of the speech made yesterday by Ambassador Thomas F. Bayard before the Edinburgh Philosophical society.

"Such a speech is a disgrace to the spirit of Americanism," said the Senator. "The idea of our ambassador to Great Britain talking in such a strain. If the people of Great Britain are to believe the statements made yesterday by Mr. Bayard, they would be of the opinion that the policy of the United States government is one of absolute socialism. Such wilful misrepresentation cannot fail to produce an effect adverse to our interests.

"In regard to the statement denouncing protection Mr. Bayard's words are easily scouted and they would not have been given credence by any one at all familiar with the condition of this country under high and low tariff."

MORTON IS SARCASTIC.

He Thinks the Election Punished Cleveland's Foes.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Secretary Morton, in an interview published this morning, speaks of the election in sarcastic terms as being a remarkable vindication of those "friends" of the administration and opponents of the Wilson bill, Senators Hill and Murphy of New York, Smith of New Jersey and Calvin S. Brice of Ohio. Carefully stating that he speaks only for himself, the Secretary of Agriculture adds: "The recent chastisement which has been administered to the Democratic party by the Democrats themselves will undoubtedly be fully remembered by the delegates to the next national convention. The recollection will teach those delegates that the platform of 1896 must state political and economic doctrines unevasively, unequivocally and truthfully, with terseness and courage. The national convention will further be logically convinced before the meeting, it seems to me, that honest money is a necessity to honest people, and an honest administration of individual and government affairs."

Durrant's Sentence Postponed.

San Francisco, Nov. 8.—W. H. T. Durrant was brought up for sentence this morning for the murder of Blanche Lamont, but on application of the prisoner's counsel, a continuance was granted for two weeks to give them time to prepare a motion for a new trial.

After remanding Durrant to the custody of the sheriff, Judge Murphy asked what counsel wanted done in the Minnie Williams case. District Attorney Barnes asked to have it dropped from the calendar with the understanding that the time would be set—with two days' notice to Durrant's counsel. There was no objection and this action was taken. At the close of the case District Attorney Barnes said he could not say when the Minnie Williams case would come to trial. He could not even say for certain that it would be tried.

A Santa Fe Wreck.

Girard, Kan., Nov. 8.—A disconnected part of a Santa Fe local ran into an extra ten miles from Girard last night smashing up the local car. Five persons were injured, one of whom may die. The crews escaped by jumping.

The injured are: C. W. French, drummer, of Chicago; Charles Abend, drummer, of Cincinnati; Messrs. Armstrong and Solomon and an unknown man who was working on the Santa Fe bridge gang.

Tired of His Job.

Berlin, Nov. 8.—The correspondent of the Cologne Gazette at Constantinople informs his paper that Baron Von Der Goltz Pasha, second chief of the general staff of the Turkish army and also a member of the Turkish ministry of war, asked leave yesterday to resign his commission in the Turkish army.

Leprosy in New York.

New York, Nov. 8.—The bureau of contagious diseases received word late this afternoon that two Chinemen from Pittsburg, who are alleged to be suffering from leprosy, were now in this city.

CHURCH EXTENSION.

Further Proceedings of the Methodists in Chicago.

BUILDING LOANS DISCUSSED.

Bishops Raise the Limit in Special Circumstances—Conference Appropriations Discussed—A Lively Interest Fund Debate.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—The general committee on church extension of the Methodist Episcopal church held its second session to-day. The special cases referred to a committee yesterday were first brought up and considered, and the remainder of the day was occupied in settling the conference appropriations.

The action of the board yesterday in so largely increasing the amounts provided for the contingency and emergency funds necessitated a scaling down of the sums appropriated to each conference. The committee appointed to make these reductions submitted an amended list which was gone through seriatim and so well had they discharged their duties that the united wisdom of the whole board made but little change in their recommendations. Many delegates sought to have their appropriations restored to last year's figures, and proposed reductions from other conferences in order to maintain the balance. These districts in turn strenuously objected to any further cutting down and their objections prevailed.

Morning Session.

Bishop Merrill presided over the morning session and called upon Rev. Dr. W. J. Paxson of Philadelphia to lead in the opening exercises. Dr. Paxson as chairman of the committee of special cases appointed the previous day, presented his report which was read by the recording secretary, Dr. McConnell. These special cases are applications for aid in the form of donations and loans towards building churches that have cost or will cost over $10,000. The rules of the board of church extension forbid granting aid to churches costing over that sum. Permission from the general committee is necessary to the granting of aid in such cases, but the general committee seemed ready to make the rule one more honored in the breach than in the observance. In nearly all the cases referred to the committee raised, wiping out the limitation. The special committee recommended in the cases of the Chelton Avenue church, Germantown, Pa., of the Union Avenue church, Alliance, O.; of the Medford, Mass., church; of the church at Cherokee, Ia., of the Broadway church, Council Bluffs, Ia., and of the German church, Spokane, Wash., that they be excepted from the limitation and that they be referred to the board for such donation as may be practicable from funds to the credit of each conference.

A particularly exceptional case was that of the Methodist church at Stockton, Cal., a structure costing $91,000, of which $85,000 has been paid. Bishop Goodsell made an earnest appeal for temporary relief for this church, which was laboring under a loan bearing 10 per cent. interest. "We had better do something," he said, "against our rules than to lose this church, the finest in California by reason of a discouraged congregation." The church was excepted from the rule and referred to the board for action. In the case of the Norwegian and Danish at Omaha, a special committee reported that there was not enough information before them for a recommendation. Bishop Newman, while not having figures at hand, was sure the society could not build the sort of a church it intended for less than $10,000, and that it deserved help.

Conference Appropriations.

Bishop Foss moved that if the church should be found to cost $10,000 it should be exempted from the limitation and referred to the board, which was agreed to. Dr. McConnell then read the list of the conferences with the amount which each was authorized to receive from the board of extension and the amount asked from it from the work of the board. Before any action was taken on this report a lively discussion took place regarding the $50,000 which was yesterday set aside for the contingent fund to pay interest on loans and on bonds, on which churches receiving advances had defaulted payment. As the money to make the loans had been borrowed in the first place the committee thought it necessary to take money from the conference collections to pay this interest.

Dr. T. D. Neeley of Philadelphia, who arrived in Chicago to-day, took the floor to enter a vigorous protest against such use of the general fund, declaring it would be illegal. The loan fund, he insisted, would take care of itself. The general committee had no right to set apart $50,000 from money to which the conferences were entitled for church extension to pay old debts.

J. W. Boughton, a lay member of the board, replied rather sharply that a number of the loans, on which no interest had been paid, had been made on the urgent appeal of Dr. Neeley. To this Dr. Neeley replied that he had only urged assistance for churches that needed it, and that it was not his business to look after the security. The board should have done that. Dr. Kynett, who has been in the service of the board as its corresponding secretary for 30 years, made an impassioned and eloquent speech in defense of the board and of the action of the committee. He pointed out emphatically that the board must pay its debts to preserve its credit.

The necessity of taking the money needed for frontier churches to pay interest on loans made to save pretentious churches was much to be regretted, but he reiterated Mr. Boughton's charges that no one had been more zealous than Dr. Neeley in committing the board to this policy. After an hour's debate, Dr. Neeley's proposition to reconsider the vote of the previous day was overwhelmingly defeated.

Bishop Andrews of New York presided over the afternoon session. The consideration of the conference appropriations was then taken up and occupied the whole session. The list was read and the amounts approved unless some objection was raised. The apportionment for Oklahoma was reduced from $6,000 to $4,000 in spite of the earnest appeal of Rev. J. J. Bentley for an additional $1,000.

FINANCIAL LEGISLATION.

The Treasury Must be Relieved by the Next Congress.

New York, Nov. 8. A. B. Hepburn, president of the Third National bank and formerly comptroller of the currency, said to-day of the prospects of financial legislation at the forthcoming session of Congress:

"First of all, we should have a revenue law which would make the income of the government equal to the expenditures. The chief embarrassment in the past has been that the government in order to meet expenditures has been obliged to issue bonds which it has done under the pretense of replenishing the gold reserve. The government attacked its own credit by calling attention to the diminishing gold which it might have avoided had it possessed the power to borrow money on exchequer bills on short time bonds as states and cities do. From talks with Congressman Reed, Senator Carter and others I get it that the idea is to pass a revenue bill covering lumber, wool and beer to furnish the required revenues. If the bill is vetoed by President Cleveland, then the responsibility for a deficit will be on him. In the meantime, we may have another bond issue, Secretary Carlisle, I understand is going to propose specific legislation with the idea of putting the responsibility on Congress. We ought to have legislation which would take the government out of the banking business."

A STEAMER LOST.

The Crew of the Missing Missoula Arrive in Port.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Nov. 8.—News of the missing steamer Missoula which was seven days overdue was received to-night when four of her crew arrived here and told the story of the wreck. The vessel foundered off Cariboo Island on the north shore. The foundering was caused by the breaking of the out board shaft. After it was found that it would be impossible to save the steamer, Captain Wilson gave orders to abandon her and the crew all escaped safely in small boats. Four were picked up by a down-bound steamer and brought here. The others are now on the North shore, 100 miles from here. A tug will leave for them in the morning. The Missoula was owned by Captain Thomas Wilson of Cleveland, and was valued at $80,000. Her cargo consisted of 70,000 bushels of wheat, valued at $50,000.

To Open a Reservation.

Washington, Nov. 8.—The Secretary of the Interior to-day forwarded to the President for his approval a draft of the proclamation opening for settlement a portion of the Nezperce Indian reservation in Idaho, and suggested that the date of the opening of the lands be named ten days later than the date on which the President signs the proclamation.

Zimmerman Beaten.

New York, Nov. 8.—News was received in this city to-day of the defeat of Champion Arthur Zimmerman in his race in Australia. The cable simply stated that he had finished second to J. Parsons in a five-mile race. Parsons is the 10-mile champion of Australia, and reported to be a very remarkable rider. The friends of the "Skeeter," who heard the news said that he could not have been in strictly first-class form. His more important races take place the latter part of the month.

British Fleet Increased.

London, Nov. 8.—The admiralty have decided to increase the strength of the British Mediterranean squadron by the addition to the fleet of six ships.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Bishop Atticus Haygood has had a relapse at his home, Oxford, Ga.

The schooner Ocean Belle has been lost on the Labrador coast. Her crew escaped.

The Rio Grande Western road reports for September gross earnings of $229,426 an increase of $21,177.

The Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, the American ambassador, will preside at the Thanksgiving banquet that will be given by the American society in London.

The Terre Haute trade unions held a meeting and arranged for a reception to President Debs of the A. R. U., on his return home Nov. 23.

William Newman, a farmer of Van Buren county, Ark., was hanged at Clinton, county seat of Van Buren county, for the murder of his wife on Aug. 18 last.

William Hawkins formerly of Rome, N. Y., shot his wife twice and then killed himself in Canastota. It is thought the woman will recover. The cause of the shooting is unknown.

The tug Katie of Norfolk, was run into and sunk in Hampton roads by the Norfolk and Washington steamer near Newport News about 7:30 p. m. The cook and fireman were lost.

In a freight wreck on the Missouri Pacific railway near Conners, Kan., M. M. DeWitt of Omaha, who was beating his way, was killed. The body was brought to Kansas City, Kan., and his wife notified of his death.

Nearly 500 of Chicago's citizens, accompanied by delegations from Aurora, Peoria, Joliet, Milwaukee and Racine, set out for Atlanta to be present at the celebration of Chicago Day at the exposition in that city next Tuesday.

Thomas W. Anderson, local freight agent of the Wabash railroad, dropped dead in St. Louis. Mr. Anderson had just entered a store and was apparently in the best of health. Deceased was about 40 years of age, and well known in railroad circles.

Secretary Carlisle will to-day hear ex-Senator Manderson of Nebraska in opposition to sending to the Court of Claims the Oxnard Beet Sugar company's case involving the constitutionality of the bounty law and decided by Comptroller Bowler adversely to the claimants.

K'amil Pasha, who was recently deposed from the grand-vizierahip and appointed Vali of Aleppo, has been taken suddenly ill with an acute attack of bronchitis. His physicians declare that he is not fit to travel to Aleppo. He is 72 years old and much anxiety is felt regarding his condition.

ONE OF THE RICHEST.

Shipments From the Grouse Will Begin To-day.

RESULT OF MUCH DEVELOPMENT.

The Recent Rise in Bankers Stock is Now Explained—A Good Mine Near Town—Progress on the Geneva—Crowds at Camp.

Cripple Creek, Nov. 8.—The first shipment from the Grouse lode, belonging to the Bankers company, will be made tomorrow. The claim is located on the south slope of Bull hill, next to the American Eagles. The property is being worked under lease by Messrs. Wright, Marshall and Anderson, who have become well known through their lease on the Geneva. They have put down a shaft to a depth of 140 feet, and from there drifted on a small stringer for a distance of 30 feet at which point the main vein was encountered. This vein is four feet wide, some two feet of it is pay ore and it is from here that the 15 tons will be shipped. On the hanging wall there are two or three inches of very rich stuff which assays all the way from 50 to 100 ounces in gold to the ton. The shipment to be made, it is thought, will run about $40 to the ton, but it may be better than that, as the estimate is strictly conservative. The lessees have been keeping very quiet about the strike, but there can be hardly any doubt but what it has leaked out, as the stock has jumped in price so much lately. Messrs. Wright, Marshall and Anderson have spent about $10,000 in the four months that they have been working on the lease, and everyone is glad that they are now rewarded for their enterprise.

The Grouse is probably one of the richest pieces of ground in camp, as all the veins on the Pike's Peaks, Orpha May, Specimen, John A. Logan, Favorite and American Eagles run through the property. It has been a matter of surprise to mining men of the district that the mine has not become a shipper long before this, but it was chiefly the fault of the company which did not work the ground and, until a recent date, would not let others do so.

The Red Bird is one of the latest mines near camp to show up well. The property is on Capitol hill and at a depth of 40 feet an inch vein of granitey quartz has been exposed. A sample across the entire vein is said to have assayed $12 in gold and 20 ounces in silver.

The output of the Wright, Marshall and Anderson lease on the Geneva last month amounted to over 1,400 tons, which averaged better than $30 to the ton.

The output for this month will not be quite so large as a good deal of dead work has been done, but the value will be about the same as the grade of the ore is higher. Shaft No. 1, on this property, is down 225 feet, and No. 2 is down 175 feet. In the last 100 feet of work there has been no pay ore although the vein looked as good as ever. Future work will be directed towards opening up the ore chute recently opened up in the Mattell, and which should be encountered at a depth of about 250 feet. When this is found in the Geneva it will be one of the really big mines of the camp. At present there is plenty of ore in the first level to work upon, only about one-fifth of that contained there having been taken out up to date.

Business was very brisk at the exchange to-night, though there was not much doing at the afternoon call. Isabella was again the star stock of the call and sold as high as 35, and 37 was paid for the stock with a December delivery. The exchange will be a permanent thing in the city and it has been decided to erect a building to transact business in and for brokers' offices.

The town is crowded with visitors as it never has been crowded before. Those who intend coming are warned to secure their rooms in advance, as it is quite impossible to find them at a moment's notice. There are many parties here now who have been compelled to search lodgings among the squatters on the placers and any one owning a shack can rent it out at the rate of $1 per night.

Murdered in Mexico.

St. Louis, Nov. 8.—A special from Zacatecas, Mex., says that H. L. Ward, the owner of the La Macoa gold mine in the State of Sinaloa, was killed two miles west of there last Wednesday by a Spaniard named Fernandez. The murderer alleges that Ward insulted his daughter and that he killed him that the honor of himself and family might be retained. Ward was wealthy and has a family living in the United States.

NICARAGUA CANAL.

A New Plan for Its Construction Reported from Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—An afternoon newspaper publishes a lengthy article purporting to give facts regarding a new deal, the consummation of which will mean the complete construction of the Nicaragua ship canal with American and British millions—purely as a private enterprise aided materially by Chicago capital as represented in newly invented canal machinery in successful operation on the Chicago drainage channel. It is stated that all attempts to obtain financial assistance from the United States government through Congress will be abandoned, and if it should develop that the charter granted the Nicaragua Maritime Canal company by Congress is likely to prove embarrassing it will be surrendered without hesitation.

With revised estimates of the cost of constructing the canal, based on the great saving through use of the improved excavating machinery owned by Chicago constructors and inventors, it is said the canal promoters went to London and laid their tempting plans before the money kings of the world's metropolis. For months these financiers have been investigating the proposition, and the great deal is on the verge of consummation. The new figures call for the expenditure of between $70,000,000 and $85,000,000.

In substantiation of the truth of this statement it is asserted that engineers and other experts in the employ of the Nicaragua Ship Canal Construction company which has invested $9,000,000 in the Isthmus canal to date, have been camping for months on the line of the Chicago canal from here to Joliet observing the wonderful mechanical improvements in ditch digging on a huge scale. When they returned to New York, it is said, the experts gave such an encouraging report of their examination that the prime movers in the great canal enterprise, notably Warner Miller, president of the construction company, were induced to undertake at once the negotiation of the London deal.

IT IS UNBEARABLE.

A Change in Turkish Conditions Necessary.

London, Nov. 8.—A dispatch from Constantinople to The Times says that the entire body of foreign diplomats accredited to the Turkish capital regard the present condition of things as unbearable. The sole policy of the Sultan in the circumstances is that of playing off the powers against one another; a policy which he has pursued in many previous emergencies with success, but upon this occasion he is completely non-plussed by the unanimity of the representatives of the powers in pressing their demands.

The correspondent of The Times does not expect that there will be a fanatical outbreak against Christians. The danger he thinks lies in another direction.

MORE BODIES FOUND.

Only One Still Missing in the Detroit Disaster.

Detroit, Nov. 8.—Three bodies were recovered to-day from the ruins of Wednesday's Larned street disaster. They were those of Lizzie Weldbusch, Anna Uhlik and Charles Lind.

The death list will not exceed 37, John Thomas, now being the only missing person. It rained steadily all day, but as soon as the walls of the Journal building had been shored the men went to work on No. 47, and the wreckage will all be cleared away by to-morrow noon. It is possible that Thomas's body will be uncovered during the night.

Engineer Thompson, who was in charge of the boilers, has practically been placed under arrest pending the result of the coroner's inquest.

AFTER MANY YEARS.

A Defaulting Postmaster Arrested Near Meeker.

Denver, Nov. 8. George S. Hazen, brother of the late Gen. Hazen, fourth assistant postmaster general, was arrested on a ranch near Meeker, Colo., and will be brought to Denver to stand trial. Hazen has been a fugitive for nearly 10 years, and it is due to the persistent activity of Special Agent George Waterbury that he was finally located.

George Hazen was postmaster at Meeker in 1885 and 1886, and on Nov. 20, 1886, he was indicted for pledging and disposing of several hundred dollars' worth of postage stamps, and for making false reports to the department. He was admitted to bail in the sum of $2,000 pending a trial, but when the case was called he had disappeared. Ex-United States Senator Tabor, his bondsman, subsequently had to pay the forfeited bond. Waterbury at the time was inspector in charge at this point, and he vowed he would find Hazen some day. He has constantly searched for the man and finally located him. Hazen's daughter is teaching school near Meeker, to whom Hazen, thinking the case had been forgotten, recently returned.

Northern Pacific Cases.

New York, Nov. 8.—The continuation of the hearing on the application for the removal of Thomas Oakes, Henry C. Payne and Henry C. Rouse, receivers of the Northern Pacific railroad, appointed in 1893, and for the appointment of new receivers, came up before Judge Lacombe in the United States Court at 2 o'clock [illegible] by mutual consent, an adjournment for two weeks was taken and the judge set the hearing down for Nov. 22.

Charles M. Adams of the reorganization committee of the second, third and consolidated mortgage bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad company, announces that there has been deposited with the committee more than $8,000,000 of the seconds and a majority of the thirds, and the consols. Outstanding bondholders are urged by Chancellor Adams to join the committee without delay as the complications that have arisen by the appointment of separate receivers threaten the existence of the property. One of the objects of the committee is to obtain the same receivership for the entire system.

Sentenced for Contempt.

San Francisco, Nov. 8.—United State Judge Morrow this afternoon sentenced Grand Juror H. J. Summerhayes, for contempt arising out of bribery charges in connection with the Freeman-Westinghouse case, to six months' imprisonment without the alternative of a fine.

Walter K. Freeman, to whom Summerhayes is alleged to have disclosed the testimony in the case, testified that the grand juror had informed him that he had influence over the jury and had asked what it would be worth to the Fort Wayne electric corporation to have Warren P. Freeman and H. S. Mackey indicted for intimidating witnesses. Witness said he told Summerhayes that if he was a grand juror, he did not wish to talk with him, but Summerhayes continued speaking. Witness said he did not report the matter to the district attorney until he consulted with his attorney, who then reported it. Freeman's testimony was corroborated by several witnesses after which Judge Morrow imposed sentence upon Summerhayes.

Acquitted of Murder.

Lindon, Kan., Nov. 8.—Dr. R. B. Mullins, a nephew of Secretary of the Treasury John G. Carlisle, was to-day acquitted of the charge of murdering J. W. Blake. On the afternoon of Dec. 27, 1894, Mullins and Blake met in a "blind pig" at Arvonia. Mullins shot Blake three times as the result of a quarrel that ensued. At the trial Dr. Mullins proved a good character and that he acted in self-defense.

Wheat Exports to Australia.

Sydney, N. S. W., Nov. 8.—Owing to the high price of wheat in Australia, a cargo of 1,000 tons of that cereal will shortly be landed here from California at 40 pence per bushel. These cargoes are expected to arrive shortly at Brisbane

REVIEW OF TRADE.

R. G. DUN & CO.'S WEEKLY COMMERCIAL SUMMARY.

Business Failures Again Show an Increase Over Last Year—The Commercial Week Broken by the State Elections—Conditions of the Great Staples.

New York, Nov. 8.—R. G. Dun & Co. will say in their Weekly Review of Trade to-morrow: The liabilities of firms failing in October were $16,179,556, against $10,772,743 in five weeks last year, and $24,945,132 in 1892. Failures for the week have been 250 in the United States against 261 last year, and 49 in Canada against 42 last year.

It has ben a broken week, and just before and after elections in the most important States operations rarely have much significance. Stocks and products are weaker, and there is some decrease in the number of establishments at work, both for reasons having nothing to do with questions of government. The controlling power at present is the effort to readjust prices after the remarkable rise of last summer in important materials and products, with the struggle of great combinations to prevent decline.

The purchase of competing interests now gives the H. C. Frick company ownership of 11,686 out of 17,934 coke ovens in the Connellsville region, and practical control of more than three-quarters, and an advance in price of coke to $2 is expected, as the Carnegie company has been buying up supplies at low prices for months in advance. Yet the price of Bessemer pig is lower, $14.75 at Pittsburg, and billets are lower because there is scarcely any demand for rails at the combination price; structural contracts are now few, and the demand for wire and wire nails has been curtailed by the nail trusts advances of prices 176 per cent. in four months. Large Western and Eastern orders for cars help the demand for bar, but finished products are quite generally sold below quotations which are now lower than they were two months ago. Copper is a shade weaker at 11.75 cents for lake, with slow buying; tin a fraction lower at 14.55 cents, with the visible supply 27,675 tons against 22,737 a year ago, and lead is a trifle lower at 3.3 cents. The anthracite combination seems ready to make higher prices.

The United States Leather company, holding great quantities produced from high priced hides, finds outside concerns reducing prices of leather and has stopped production for 60 days, in order to control the market. Rough California is 2 cents lower this week with other kinds unchanged. Meanwhile the great boot and shoe manufacturer is embarrassed, even to the stoppage of very many works, by the refusal of jobbers to purchase, in the belief that leather and shoes must decline in accordance with hides. Manufacturers have offered concessions ranging from 5 to 10 cents per pair, only increasing the indisposition to buy.

Many woolen mills are also closing to wait for orders though the demand is fully satisfactory for some dress goods and worsteds, and the Washington mills open clay worsteds at 10 cents advance. But prices of these and most qualities of woolens are still unsteady for manufacturers do not know what they have to meet. The reaction from speculative prices of wool abroad, and the stiffness of speculative and country holders here reduce sales to 5,623,540 pounds for the week against 8,895,000 for the same week of 1892, but stocks of foreign wool here are very large. Cotton mills do well as the halt and hesitation in cotton does not stop buying of goods and many believe goods safe at current prices, even if cotton is not. The market for raw cotton is held at 8.81 cents in spite of a highly respectable estimate of only 6,435,000 bales for the year.

Wheat falls back with great reluctance from its summer rise of 20 cents, but declined 1½ cents for the week. Western receipts being 8,019,910 bushels against 3,645,032 for the same week last year. Belief in a crop much smaller than last year's has to resist actual receipts of 45,665,005 bushels in six weeks against 3,725,368 last year and Atlantic exports have been only 9,930,945 bushels of flour, included, against 13,347,619 last year. The reports of winter wheat from States are also better. Corn comes forward largely, receipts being more than double last year's, and nearly a million bushels went abroad.

Stocks have declined an average of $1.46 for railroad and $1.17 for trusts during the week, with an obvious cause in fears of gold exports and serious financial anxieties abroad, especially at Paris. A coming Congress and present tangible competition affect Sugar, Leather and Tobacco.

Railroad earnings reported for October are, for the United States alone $46,705,604, or 5.5 per cent. over last year's, but in spite of larger mileage, 2.4 per cent. less than in 1892 on the same roads, and the comparison for the third and fourth week is far less favorable.

PNEUMATIC GLOVES

To Be Used by Boxers and Leave No Unpleasant Results.

Philadelphia, Nov. 8.—An exhibition of a set of pneumatic boxing gloves was given yesterday in the gymnasium of the Philadelphia Fencing and Sparring club.

The gloves are novel in construction, consisting of a rubber bag, or bladder, covered with soft, pliable leather. After being placed on the hands, the gloves are inflated by a tube back of the wrist band. Every part of the hand is protected by an air cushion from two to three inches thick. It is claimed for the gloves that they relieve boxing of brutality, as there is not the jar to the body that is felt from the hard stuffed gloves generally used. It is claimed for the gloves that the skin is not liable to be bruised and thus black eyes and the other marks incidental to boxing will be avoided. The men who tried the gloves were W. H. Rocap, ex-amateur champion feather weight of the world; H. P. Burchall of the Vesper Boat club, Philadelphia, and James Murray, Jr., boxing instructor of the Fencing and Sparring club.

Mr. Rocap boxed with each in turn. While the boxing was entirely friendly, yet the men were anxious to give the gloves a thorough test and punched each other as hard as their strength would allow. After the bouts neither of the men showed any abrasions of the skin or bruises of any kind.

Then Mr. Doyle, instructor in fencing of the club, a man of immense strength, put one of the gloves on and punched a big post several times as hard as he could swing his arm, in an effort to burst the gloves, but it never phased them. It was thought by all of the athletes present that with some minor improvements, the gloves would be perfectly harmless.

A Modern Scientific Railway.

One of the finest illustrations in the world of the perfection of modern scientific railroading is furnished by the ever-popular New York Central and Hudson River railroad. Traversing the bank of the famous Hudson a river endowed by nature with some of the fairest scenic pictures in Eastern America, the road possesses natural advantages of peculiar attractiveness. Added to these is one of the most carefully constructed lines in existence, guarded by competent men and equipped with the very latest devices to insure safety, and boasting rightly rolling-stock which embodies every modern improvement of value in securing luxurious comfort for travelers. The New York Central affords fast direct routes between the most important commercial centers of the United States and Canada, and is the only Trunk line entering New York city. All trains arrive at and depart from the Grand Central Station, in the center of the metropolis.—(Outing.

A PRAIRIE ISHMAELITE.

Settlers Trying to Exterminate the Pestiferous and Cowardly Coyote.

[Special Correspondence.]

ABILENE, Kan., Nov. 5. With the return of cold weather the annual attempt of the settlers on the prairies to kill off the coyotes, or prairie wolves, is resumed. It is a never ending struggle, yet one which cannot be relinquished, for the pestiferous creatures are the bane of the farmer's life. The coyote is born without honor and never acquires it. He is a slinking coward by nature and seems rather proud of this characteristic of his being. He is a hanger on, a skirmisher, and is always, as Mark Twain puts it, "out of luck and friendless."

During recent years the coyote has increased upon the plains of western Kansas and Nebraska. The depredations upon flocks and herds of the frontier have become so numerous and extensive as to warrant counties in offering rewards for scalps of these unscrupulous beings. Many western Kansas counties have until recently offered $3 each for these wolf scalps, but the large number brought in for payment made it necessary to change the figure, and now few offer more than $1 each. In some counties the payment for scalps amounted to more than $1,000 a year, and the people could not afford it.

The habits of the coyote are peculiar. No region is too desolate or too lonesome for him to make a home. He lives on good terms with the owl and the rattlesnake. He is always lean, and his hide looks like a faded out and dilapidated wagon robe thrown loosely over a skeleton. His chief pleasure is in an unearthly midnight howl, in which numbers join, in order to terrify some hapless flock or belated traveler. Many a settler driving his prairie schooner over the prairie has been kept in trembling fear by the shrill howl of the coyotes that followed his wagon. During the summer they are less bold, but as winter comes on the barnyards suffer, and, once banded together, they have no hesitancy in making attacks on lonesome cabins and frightened wayfarers. In all attacks, however, there is never any bravery shown, but for hours the besiegers will sit on their haunches at a distance and howl in painful cadence, longing for some weak victim to appear.

The average prairie settler has no fear of the coyote so far as personal danger is concerned. He knows that the sheep may be pounced upon, frightened and some killed, young calves may be dragged down and made to serve as a feast for the wolves, but for himself he will not be touched so long as he has strength and means to defend himself. But he knows that if opportunity presents damage will ensue. For this he hates the coyote and hunts him to the death at every opportunity.

Often the wolves multiply in their holes in the sandy hills to such an extent that organized neighborhood hunts are arranged in order to kill off the surplus population of this undesirable kind. The whole community turns out with its best hunters, and the wolf infested region is surrounded by a cordon of well armed hunters. Gradually closing in, the constant "bang, bang," tells well enough the story. Such coyotes as are not killed are, when their holes can be found, smoked out and their end settled quickly.

Little use exists for hunting the coyote with dogs. Only two creatures on the plains can outstrip the coyote the antelope and greyhound. But the greyhound is afraid of the snarling, snapping Ishmaelite, while the antelope is only a victim of the wolf itself. The pace of the coyote is a slinking, shambling one, as if the creature did not care whether it moved or not. But it is a deceptive one, too, for the animal covers a great amount of ground in a given time. He is shrewd as well and suspicious of traps and snares. For weeks one may bait a trap in some favorite haunt of the wolves, but till the time the dhole, as Kipling calls them, steps carefully over the waiting contrivance unharmed.

As the winter grows more severe and food scarcer the coyotes hunt in packs and are then prepared to attack anything that seems likely to give way to them. No comparison between their tactics and those of the regular mountain wolf can be found, for the coyote is a degenerate scion, an Ishmaelite among the wild creatures of the plains. When he falls by some mischance into the pitfall his anger and chagrin are something pitiful. This disgrace is the only feeling of which he is capable.

The average settler's dog looks ashamed of itself when he sees a coyote. Run as he may, strain every muscle as he will, he can do no more than keep in sight of the wary wolf who makes racing a sport. Nor can the coyote be tamed. There seems to be tiger blood in his veins, for, chain him as one will, from infancy he rebels against captivity to the last, walking up and down the limit of his chain, snapping and snarling at all who come near and wearing himself out with the ceaseless worry that is evidently puzzling the vagabond brain. No attempt to tame one has been successful; no conqueror of the wild spirit has been found.

The settlers are making a more determined attempt than ever to get rid of the coyote, realizing its danger to the flocks, herds and henhouses. He is a dangerous resident in a community, an outcast and a reprobate. The settling up of the prairies is driving him farther and farther west, and soon his weird howl will be heard no more. None will be sorry.

A BOX OF JEWELS.
We regulate our prices by intrinsic values and by nothing else. A slight advance over the cost of production is all we are called upon to pay. In many cases the material alone comes very near being worth what we ask for the finished article; those are, of course, the cases in which the workmanship is not exceedingly elaborate. We can't guarantee that you won't be a little puzzled when you come to make a selection from our handsome assortment of sterling silver novelties, but we can give you every other bit of a guarantee, and the principal one is that you'll get at least your money's worth every time.

A MINING EXCHANGE BUILDING.

We extend hearty congratulations to the members of the Mining Association of this city on their purchase of land for permanent quarters and the prospect of the erection of a Mining Exchange thereon. The growth of the mining stock business in this city and the dazzling prospects now opening for the influx of eastern capital are due in a large measure to the work of this oldest of our exchanges, and its responsibility, its integrity and its conservatism are the chief safeguards against the dangers inseparable from such a tremendous speculative movement as that which seems about to come upon us.

The services of the Exchange in advertising the Cripple Creek district, in giving stability to the market, in protecting investors against fraud are generally understood here at home, and the recent accessions to its membership of prominent outside firms show both the interest that is being aroused in our stocks and the esteem in which the Exchange is held by brokers of national reputation.

We have already expressed ourselves in favor of the consolidation of the two larger exchanges, but if this fails of accomplishment, it is certainly for the interest of all connected with the mining stock business whether members of an exchange or not, that there should be in this city a thoroughly sound and reliable and conservative exchange. What the Exchange has been in the past we trust it may continue, and we gladly welcome this latest proof of its prosperity and its capacity for greater usefulness to itself and its members.

SOME ELECTION CONTESTS.

After each election there is always more or less irresponsible talk about fraud, and wherever the result is sufficiently close to warrant the opinion that a change of a few votes would have made any difference, a contest is inaugurated almost as a matter of course. The greater part of such contests are fruitless and are started without any sufficient reason other than the opinion of the defeated candidate that he ought to have been elected and if he was not it must have been through fraud.

In so far as these contests tend to discourage fraud and put a premium on honest political methods they are to be commended, but the objectionable part of them, aside from the waste of money, is the fact that they are usually carried on, not by a dispassionate review of the evidence in a court of justice, but by passionate appeals to ignorance and partisanship.

In such contests as the one which is now on in Arapahoe county and the one which it is said will be started in El Paso, people are expected to take sides without any knowledge of the facts in the case, merely on the unsupported assertion of some defeated candidate or campaign manager. So far we have not seen or heard one particle of trustworthy evidence that the Arapahoe ballots will not be cast as counted, or that fraud was employed to ensure the success of the Republican ticket in Cripple Creek. Regarding the latter we have heard good evidence that there was no such fraud.

If there is any evidence that the election laws have been violated, we hope it will be produced in the proper court and the guilty punished, whichever side their illegal action tended to benefit, but until such an event happens the idle vaporings of the Denver News, or the cheap talk heard on our own streets will not be a cause of much worry to sensible persons.

While the nations of Europe are worrying over the various political problems which are connected with the downfall of the Turkish empire the United States is not altogether free from a duty in this matter. It is true that our country has not joined in the guarantee of protection to the Christians abandoned to Mohammedan rule, and our responsibility begins and ends with the protection of our own citizens who are now in Turkey. But simple as this duty appears there is too much reason to believe that the present administration is again to add to its record of incapacity. European fleets have been assembled near Constantinople. European governments are agitated over the massacres of native Christians and the outrages upon their own subjects domiciled in the Turkish empire, and European governments in their remonstrances have a backing in near-by ships and big guns. It is true that Minister Terrill has informed the Sultan that he will be held responsible for any injury to American life and property, but as the Sultan himself is in daily peril of assassination or revolution it seems that the minister's warning is hardly a sufficient protection. We are informed that the United States has one small vessel in the eastern Mediterranean and another larger one in the western part of that sea. No doubt too that the British, French and German consuls will graciously extend some protection to American citizens in case of a general massacre, and if any of our people are killed there will be good ground for a money demand against the Porte. In the mean time American patriots at home and abroad may remember Mr. Cleveland's wish that they should so far as possible refrain from any disturbing criticism of the present administration whose policy is to avoid any entanglements with foreign governments.

After election opinions are seldom profitable, but they are frequently amusing. Easily ahead of all others in this respect is the one that the Republican victory was due to the failure of the Democratic party to carry out its pledges of tariff for revenue only which were given in their last national platform.

Colorado seems to have had its share of Republicanism in last Tuesday's election. The evidence that Populism was a temporary aberration and not a permanent insanity must be extremely gratifying to all true friends of the State.

It would be easy to determine whether or no the result of the recent election was a rebuke to the administration. Let the Democrats seek a personal endorsement for Mr. Cleveland by nominating him for a third term.

We call especial attention to the article by Professor Rickard on Cripple Creek which appears in the mining department today. Both from a scientific and a practical point of view, it is worth reading.

Recent returns on the woman suffrage amendment in Massachusetts show an adverse majority of 77,000. The total vote was 291,000.

A Good Word for Judge Lunt.

Judge Lunt is recognized as an able and pure man and the choice by a large majority for District Judge. He received the handsome majority of 99 in this precinct, although everything else was Democratic. (Elbert Tribune.

Wild Blatherskites.

The official canvass of the vote of Arapahoe county will be fairly and honestly conducted and there is no excuse for the wild talk of blatherskites who assume that an attempt will be made to count out any candidate of any party by illegal or unjust means. (Republican.

FOREIGN NOTES.

A Russian judge recently gave a decision worthy of Solomon. A creditor complained that he was unable to get his money from a debtor, although the latter was in a position to pay. The debtor declared that he had promised to pay on St. Henry's Day—a saint unknown in Russia. The judge ordered him to pay on All Saints' Day, "for that day includes all saints not mentioned on the calendar."

Munster, a prosperous city in Westphalia, is at present the scene of nightly uproars. The police there have decided to close all saloons at 11 p. m. The good people of Munster regard this as an infringement of their rights. Nightly they gather before the residence of the provincial governor, and shout for liberty and beer.

A. M. Claverie has asked the Paris Academie de Medecine to agitate for a corset tax. He attributes the steady decline of births in France to the wearing of tight corsets, and thinks a tax would stop the evil. The learned gentlemen of the academy accepted the proposition with the gravity for which they are renowned.

The Monde, Montreal, a French-Canadian paper, accuses King Leopold of Belgium of having robbed his sister Carlotta of her fortune. "Guess the editor wanted to get his paper talked about," says the Handelsblad. If so, he is successful, for the Belgian consul threatens to prosecute the paper for libel.

The Czar of Russia recently made a present of 20,000 rifles to the Prince of Montenegro. Prince Nikita is determined to make some use of the gift, and so he is going to establish a standing army.

"The German Emperor," according to a report, "has taken a new departure in the way of communicating with his ministers and others while absent from Berlin. While he is in Rominten he is followed wherever he goes by a telephone car, by the use of which he is enabled to speak from any part of the chase with the foresters, gamekeepers, etc., and also to keep up close communication with the ministers and other State authorities in Berlin and elsewhere. The Great Northern Strike.

Devils Lake, N. D., Nov. 8.—The first overt act of the present strike was committed last night. Spikes were pulled from several rails a mile west of this city. The broken trackage was discovered this morning before the passenger train reached here. Twenty more special passengers arrived to-day and are patrolling the yards.

Trains are being run out only hourly principally manned with new men, though three old conductors took their trains out. The strikers say it is only a question of a few hours when every A. R. U. employe on the road will quit work. Forty men participating in the strike were discharged to-day.

The New Passenger Agreement.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—Executive officers of the Western roads to-day ratified the new passenger agreement. A meeting of representatives of the transmissouri lines was also held to determine whether or not those lines should concur in the agreement. No decision was arrived at to-day, but it is practically certain that they will sign the new articles. The Union Pacific, which has always to a certain degree held aloof from such an association, was represented to-day by its general passenger agent, Mr. Lomax, who said when the meeting was over that he had thrown no obstacle in the way of completing the agreement. The proposition to reduce the rate from Montana through Utah points to the Missouri river $5, as advocated by the Rio Grande Western, was also considered.

NEW STAR FOUND.

It Is an Inhabitant of the Southern Hemisphere.

Boston, Nov. 8.—The Harvard observatory has just discovered a new star in the constellation Carina.

By a new star is meant not a star which has always existed, but has only recently been observed by the astronomers, but a star which "just happens," shines brightly, increasing in radiance until it reaches its maximum brilliancy, and then fades into insignificance, or passes away entirely. Or, sometimes, a star is thus technically called "new" which suddenly blazes out from comparative obscurity, remains abnormally bright for a period, and then relapses into its previous state. Such a star is to be distinguished from a "variable" star, which periodically grows bright and dim.

In the astronomical books a new star is called a "nova"—the Latin word—and the name of the constellation is added in Latin genitive, as "Nova Carinae" meaning simply "the new star in the constellation Carina."

The value of such a discovery as that just announced by the Harvard observatory will be appreciated when it is known that in the entire history of astronomical observations, covering over 2000 years, only 15 "new" stars have been noted. The last two recorded have been discovered by Harvard. Hipparchus made out the first, B. C. 134. In 389, A. D., another was found, and during the hundred years beginning with 1572, four more. The first of these was discovered by Tyco Brahe, the famous pioneer of modern astronomy, and for 200 years centuries after it had disappeared—it managed to impress the popular imagination in a very peculiar way. People thought it the Star of Bethlehem, and believed that it reappeared at the end of every 314 years. As 1885 grew near many people grew anxious thinking that its second coming would be the signal for the second coming of the Saviour, and the Greenwich observatory printed a circular exposing the delusion, to be sent in reply to the hundreds of letters of inquiry it was receiving.

A Millionaire Dead.

Pasadena, Cal., Nov. 8.—Simeon G. Reed, the well known Oregon millionaire, died at his residence in this city yesterday afternoon from the effects of a stroke of paralysis. Mr. Reed had been in poor health for some time but it was not until Saturday that his illness took a serious turn.

He was a native of East Abington, Mass., coming to Oregon in 1852. By rare business acumen, earnest purpose and infallible honesty he amassed a fortune estimated at several millions. At the time of his retirement, four years ago, Mr. Reed was vice-president of the Oregon Steam Navigation Co., Oregon Steel and Iron company and the Conover Creek Mining and Milling company, besides controlling other vast interests throughout the State. His ranch holding near Pasadena is among the largest and best stocked in California. His wife, formerly Miss Amanda Wood of Quincy, Mass., survives him.

Ill from a Luncheon.

Green Bay, Wis., Nov. 8. Twelve or fifteen of the most prominent society ladies in the city are seriously ill to-day from the effects of something that was contained in luncheon served at a swell reception given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. C. O. Gage and Mrs. F. Vandersee. Health Commissioner Brett who is attending several of those attacked, is unable to say whether the illness is due to poison or some impurity. It is not thought that any will die.

THE FULLERTON CONSUMPTION CURE

Taking as a basis the fact that Consumption is due to a bacilli, as fully demonstrated by Koch in 1882, and later by hundreds of scientists throughout the world, it only remained for the investigator to find a remedy that would destroy the germ without harm to the patient, and that remedy we claim to offer in the Fullerton Consumption Cure, incorporating in a beautiful limpid antiseptic solution one of the best recognized tonics, a specific alterative, and a powerful vegetable germicide, which is injected hypodermically directly into the capillary circulation, is quickly absorbed without special irritation, carried by the veins to the right side of the heart, from thence pumped directly through the pulmonary arteries into the lungs, coming in direct contact with the disease.

This treatment is no longer a vague theory. It has safely passed its experimental stage, and for more than four years has been successfully used, furnishing positive proof that if intelligently administered for a sufficient length of time it will cure a greater per cent. of cases than any other known remedy.

FOOT BALL.

LINE-UP OF THE COLORADO SPRINGS AND PUEBLOS TO-DAY.

It Promises to be Hot Stuff—The College Team is Getting Ready for the Game with Boulder Next Saturday, to be Played in this City.

The Pueblo High school football club will arrive here this morning to meet the Colorado Springs High school team. It is the return game and promises to be most interesting. Last month the Colorado Springs boys beat the Pueblos, but they have been getting in shape since and will give the home team a hard rub. Capt. Brayton has had his men at work, too, and will play them for everything there is in them. The game is to be called at 2:30, and there will be a large attendance without doubt, as the play of these two teams has always been interesting. The admission fee is 25 cents. The Pueblos will bring a large number of their friends with them to root for them, and our boys will be out in force. The visitors will leave Pueblo at 8:20, which will give them a day in the city. The line-up of the teams will be as follows:

Springs.	Position.	Pueblo.
Rick	left tackle	Humphreys
Buckley	right guard	Galfut
Russell	center	McFeeley
Cook	right tackle	Packard
Perry	right end	Boswing
Fairly	quarter back	Marvin
Brayton, c	left half back	Weber,c
Rogers	right half back	Hyde
Berrey	full back	Hay

College vs. Boulder.

The varsity teams of Colorado College and Boulder University will come together on the afternoon of the 16th at the Athletic park for the purpose of seeing which is the superior in the art of handling the pig skin.

The College eleven will be in far better shape and also much stronger than it was when it met the Golden giants on Tuesday.

On the 16th Noble, Barnes and Wood will likely be seen behind the line, Rogers's arm is all right again and he will hold his old place at quarter. It is also understood that the line will be strengthened in the placing of several of the team who were unable to play in the Golden game owing to injuries received in practice games.

Mr. Cash, a former Princeton player, now a member of the Denver Athletic Club eleven, will take charge of the team on Monday and give the men a number of valuable points.

Looking at things in this light the game on the 16th ought to be one of the hottest of the season.

COLORADO COLLEGE.

Events of the Week in Class Room and Elsewhere.

The meetings held every evening this week under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. in the society rooms at Palmer Hall, have been conducted by Mr. Sage of the Atlanta, Ga., Y. M. C. A., of which he was formerly secretary. They have been very largely attended by the faculty and students.

On Wednesday the classes in physical culture were resumed under the charge of Prof. Mead, and are now well under way, being very popular among the students, especially the young ladies.

Arrangements have been made for a course of University Extension lectures for the ensuing year. They will be given by members of the faculty with the co-operation of Profs. Pattison and Turnbull of the High school. They will be held in room No. 5 at the High school building every Monday afternoon at 4:15. This course will consist of 16 lectures, and the charge will be $1.50 for the entire course. Further particulars will be given later, when the circular is issued. The first lecture will be held on the 18th of this month.

The Minerva society met on Friday afternoon. Three young ladies read papers, Miss Gilette the "Trip Over of Minerva," Miss McAlister, "In Scotland," and Miss Epicer, "Minerva In Ireland." Afterwards the three young ladies sang Scotch ballads.

President Slocum at the close of the chapel exercises on Thursday morning spoke of his recent trip in the East and South and of his visit at the Institute of Technology in Boston, John Hopkins University and the Tulane University in New Orleans. Mr. Cajori, professor of physics, comes from the latter institution, and was an interested listener.

Over 20 young ladies have joined the Glee club under the leadership of Miss Frances Bayley, and some enjoyable concerts are promised.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Educational society was held Thursday. Mrs. Cajori was elected a member in place of Miss Leslie, resigned.

The paper in the senior seminary this week was read by Miss Booth, subject, "Taine's Philosophy of Art."

The sermon delivered Sunday, Oct. 27, by Prof. Parsons at the First Congregational church was an interesting sketch on the progress of Colorado College in the 21 years of its existence, and especially of the last seven years, when President Slocum has been in charge. In 1888 there were only 25 students in the institution, none of whom were in the college proper. There are now over 300 in the college and academy and among them representatives from 20 States, showing how wonderfully the College has come to the front under his leadership.

The mixed doubles in the tennis tournament resulted as follows: Miss Jackson and Mr. Fairbank won from Miss Lockhart and Mr. Lockhart two sets straight. Miss Bullen and Mr. Helzer won from Miss Smith and Mr. Hammond two sets straight. In the finals, which were played off Friday, Miss Jackson and Mr. Fairbank won from Miss Bullen and Mr. Helzer three sets straight, with the following score: 6-3, 6-3, 6-1. The gentlemen's doubles still remained to be played, and will be played during the following week.

Lake George Gold.

A successful treatment of low grade ore will bring into prominence a large territory contiguous to Colorado Springs. It is coming soon if it has not already arrived. Among the sections that will be affected is the larger mineral territory in the vicinity of Lake George, in the western part of this county. At the lake there are immense porphyry blowouts that extend up seventy or more feet in the air. In years past, there has been considerable prospecting done there, but not in a very scientific manner. In fact it was in Tarryall that the first mining in Colorado was done back in the sixties. The reason that Colorado City had its existence was because the placer diggings in that vicinity could be reached from there. The veins from which these placers received their gold have never been found.

There are now quite a number of people interested in prospecting in the locality of the lake. A Mr. Miller of this city has recently had an assay of $18 a ton from a depth of only 18 ft. A. says from the rough rock at a few feet depth have often given $2.50 and higher. Last year a run was made on a small quantity of the rock and from the concentrate $36 was taken. From the development work done better results have been secured than were apparent at Cripple Creek after many thousands had been spent. That whole region is in the same mineral section with Cripple Creek and it is not unreasonable to suppose that in time it will be developed. In fact there are a number of Denver and eastern men now figuring on putting in mills there if they find that a suitable process can be had for treating the ores at a profit.

A party of surveyors has been at work for several weeks at Lake George. A company has been made up for supplying power to Cripple Creek. It is proposed to increase the depth of the lake and put in immense power plants. Something more definite in regard to this will be announced as soon as the engineers report.

PUEBLO DEANERY

Will Meet in this City Three Days Next Week.

The fall Convocation of the Deanery of Pueblo will be held at St. Stephen's Church on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The Deanery comprises all the parishes of the Episcopal Church in the State which are situated south of Denver and east of Leadville. The following clergymen are expected: Rev. R. S. Radcliffe, Rev. E. P. Newton and Rev. E. A. Oliver of Pueblo, Rev. J. W. Ohl, of Salida; Rev. C. Y. Grimes, of Cripple Creek; Rev. D. L. Fleming of Leadville, Rev. E. W. Sibbald of Canon City, Rev. P. B. Lightner, of Manitou, Rev. D. H. Clarkson of Colorado City, and Rev. Philip Washburn of this city. Bishop Spaulding will also be present. The following is the programme:

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 11.

3:00 p. m.—Meeting of Women's Auxiliary. Addresses by Mrs. Spaulding of Denver, Mrs. Smith of Denver, and others.

8:00 p. m.—Service.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 12.

10:30 a. m.—Ordination of Rev. David H. Clarkson at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Colorado City.

8:00 p. m.—Missionary service.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 13.

9:00 a. m.—Holy Communion.

10:00 a. m.—Business meeting, and reports from delegates to general convention.

3:00 p. m.—Discussion of Balfour's Foundation of Belief. Paper by Rev. E. A. Oliver of Pueblo.

A special effort will be made to have a large representation of women from the parishes in the Deanery at the Auxiliary meeting on Monday afternoon.

All the services and meetings are open to all who desire to attend.

Divorces Filed.

An adverse suit was filed in the District Court yesterday, entitled the Alhambra Mining company vs. J. J. Keeler et al, and is the Hattie May adversing the Vina Diamond.

District Court.

In the first division of the District Court yesterday the replevin suit of the Exchange National bank vs. Paulson was concluded. On instruction of the court a verdict was given the plaintiff. The jury found the value of the property to be first as it was at the time the attachment was made, or $600.

In the afternoon the court heard a motion in the case of the American National bank of Denver vs. the Strong Gold Mining company. The plaintiffs moved for a decree on the pleadings, and the defense moved to strike the motion from the files. This was overruled by the court, and this morning the arguments will be heard on the original motion. Quite a brilliant array of legal talent is present to participate in the argument. The plaintiffs have Judge Felker, T. J. O'Donnell and Judge Decker. The defense has Charles S. Thomas and Colburn and Dudley of this city.

In the second division yesterday the testimony was concluded in the adverse suit of McNamarra vs. Wright, the adverse of the Maid and the Rising Sun. The arguments will be made this morning.

The preliminary examination of the man Allison, who is charged with the death of a young woman named McHugh, was had in Cripple Creek yesterday. He was bound over to the District Court. Dr. Lane, who performed the operation, has not been found as yet.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The young men of the city who are looking for an opportunity to do Christian work will find just what they desire the coming week at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. The committee in charge of these special services have arranged for a noon-day meeting each day from 12:15 to 12:50. An evangelistic service for men only every night at 8 p. m. on Tuesday and Friday afternoons at 4, a meeting for women only. The Christian people of the city are urged to give this movement their hearty support and earnest prayers that much good may result.

Rev. W. H. W. Boyle has been secured to speak at the young men's rally tomorrow afternoon at 4:15, and Mrs. Rose Carter Crafts, the contralto soloist who has sung so acceptably in this city will sing. All young men are cordially invited.

Young men's class in the "gym" tonight. Mr. Paul Mead, the new physical director will have charge. All old members or any new ones who desire to take this work should be on hand. The three evening classes in the "gym" will be omitted next week.

A Missing Bridegroom.

London, Nov. 8.—The wedding of J. A. McLean, an officer of the Royal Irish Lancers, to a daughter of Mr. Seymour Forbes, a Yorkshire landowner, which was fixed for this morning in All Saints Church, London, was unavoidably postponed through the failure of the groom to appear at the time appointed and the large and fashionable throng which had gathered to witness the ceremony were obliged to depart in a disappointed frame of mind. The bride with the bridesmaids and pages waited at the church for the groom until the hour fixed for the wedding had arrived and passed and then departed for their homes in great distress. Diligent search failed to discover any trace of the groom and his valet upon being interrogated professed complete ignorance of his master's whereabouts.

Attacked by Robbers.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—Mrs. Emma Hobbold, wife of the superintendent of the Western Starch association was attacked by robbers in her home at 3218 Wallace street, between 5 and 6 o'clock this evening and sandbagged into insensibility. Early in the afternoon a man called and expressed a desire to rent the middle flat of the Hobbold home and said he would return with his brother later in the evening. Two men called between 5 and 6 o'clock, and after paying Mrs. Hobbold $10 earnest money for the flat, they attacked her with a sandbag. They secured $50 from her dress pocket and by ransacking the house secured $500 worth of jewelry. Mrs. Hobbold was found in a dying condition on the floor of the vacant flat half an hour afterward.

Cattle Train Wrecked.

Cynthiana, Ky., Nov. 8.—A wreck occurred on the Kentucky Central division of the Louisville and Nashville a little after 3 o'clock this morning. A northbound freight heavily loaded with stock ran into an open switch 13 miles below Cincinnati, and 12 cars were destroyed. Eugene Kelly of Bourbon county, on his way from Lexington with horses, was killed. It is estimated that 150 head of cattle and 20 hogs were killed.

Stage Struck.

Philadelphia, Nov. 8. While stooping to pick up a bouquet that was thrown on the stage to-night to Mrs. Potter, Kyrle Bellow, the actor, was struck on the head by the descending curtain and knocked into insensibility.

How badly Mr. Bellow was hurt could not be learned to-night, as when inquiry was made at his hotel it was said he was asleep, and the hotel people refused to awaken him.

Board of Trade Exchange

First Call.

Colorado Springs, Nov 8—As the total sales of the first call of the Board of Trade again amounted to over 600,000 shares nothing need be said about the activity and it only remains to be said that prices were stronger than ever and the general tone of the market decidedly bullish. The star seller of the morning was C. K. & N. with a total of 118,000 shares This sold around $10 per 1000, at which it closed in very good demand. Next on the list in the matter of activity was Silver State with 40,000 shares which changed hands at 2 and closed with more wanted at the same figure. Close behind this were Virginia M., Sacremento, Santa Fe, Copper Mountain, Ontario and Garfield Grouse. The first named sold at 2½. Sacremento made a good deal of improvement and sold at 5¾. Santa Fe is changing hands at better than $7 per 1000 and Garfield Grouse is in big demand at 6 and better Among the higher priced stocks Isabella was prominent with 4000 sales, selling at an advance of several cents in price and Portland also shows decided strength and is not far off the $2 mark Jack Pot, Jefferson, Ben Hur, Copper Mountain, Gold and Globe and Work are all strong although some of them were only traded in lightly.

Second Call.

The afternoon's trading brought the total for the day to over one million shares again, this being the first time upon which it has been done twice in succession. The lively traders in this call were Henrietta, Franklin and C K & N. The latter stock had the biggest total of the lot amounting to an even 65,000 shares. This sold at $11 and $11 50 per 1000 The sales in it for the day amounted to close upon 200,000 shares and there was none offered at less than $12 per 1000 at the close The Franklin sales amounted to 39,000 shares which sold at 2 and 2¼, there appearing to be an unlimited demand for it at the lower figure The Henrietta sales were all consummated at $5 per 1000 with the same price bid for more Fanny Rawlings was lively and sold at 15¾ and 15¾. Isabella was very strong at 31½ and 32 and there was a big demand for Colorado City and Manitou which changed hands at the greatly increased price of 5 and 5¾ Copper Mountain appears to be picking up again in good shape and was a ready seller at 2½ at this call, some of it going up as high as 2⅝, even more than that being bid for more at the close of the call. Creede and Cripple Creek showed considerable improvement with close to 10,000 sales at 4¼. Aola was very strong at 3, Bankers at 17, Reno at 4½ and 4⅝, Des Moines at 4¾ and 5 and Mt. Rosa at 12½ and 12¾. The total sales for the day amounted to 1,009,974 shares.

Special to The Gazette:
Denver, Nov. 8—The strength of the market appears to increase with every call and it is quite certain that the business does which is fully testified to to-day by the fact that close upon 1,000,000 shares were traded in. The bulls are in full possession of everything except the silver stocks and many of the brokers find it impossible to fill orders though they are bidding up to the full limits of their clients instructions The feature of the morning was the heavy trading in C. K and N., which sold to the tune of 240 000 shares which changed hands at the rate of $10 and $11 per 1000 Alamo was very strong and sold at better than 6 Santa Fe had an even 125,000 sales at about $8 per 1000. Wheel of Fortune 24,000 at $6 per 1000, Star of the West 60,000 at 2, Garfield Grouse 94,000 at 6 and better, and Jack Pot 63,000 at from 8¼ to 8¾. Anaconda was very strong with over 6000 sales, some of which went as high as 63, and Portland was also strong in the neighborhood of $2. The total sales amounted to 937,000 shares of which 582,000 were credited to the listed stocks.

CRIPPLE CREEK GEOLOGY.

An Interesting Article by State Geologist Hayard.

The rapid development of the new gold fields under the shadow of Pike's Peak, says the Colorado State geologist, Prof. T. A. Rickard, in the Denver Republican, has become one of the most dominant features of the mining activity of our State, and in default of a more regular avenue of communication it may be permitted to me to express certain considerations founded on a geological examination of the region through the medium of your widely read columns.

The recent publications of the United States Geological Survey have made very evident the complexity of rock-formation and the petrographic variety of the country adjoining the veins. The work of Dr. Whiteman Cross and Professor Perrose has been received with keen interest by those engaged in mining operations Yet, while the manifold rock types determined through the labors of these two gentlemen of the Survey will be properly appreciated by the scientist, they will not be readily assimilated by the men actually working in the mines. These have added "phonolite" to their "porphyry," but probably refuse to go further after the fine distinctions rightly noted by the geologist. It is not always easy to apply the fruits of scientific inquiry directly to the furtherment of industry and in this case the less apparent distinctions made between the nature of the various rocks will be lost in the more ready recognition of the structures characterizing them. Already the miner will tell you that the phonolite has a curly break and a fine grain, while usually the porphyry (commonly andesitic breccia) is spotty and carries a more developed system of joints. He has also quickly learned to distinguish between the dikes, whether phonolite, basalt or trachyte, and the more massive formations through which they penetrate, and, after all, necessary as the accurate recognition of rock varieties may be to the study of the causes about ore deposition, the determination of the structural relations is far more significant to those actually engaged in the work of searching for the ore. It is only in modern times that the young science of geology has served as a hand maiden guiding the blind footsteps of the old industry of mining And it is through the observation of the structural relations existing between ore deposits and their inclosing rock formations that this has been done.

Its Geology is All Right.

And to no district do these general considerations apply more evidently than to Cripple Creek. Of geology's service to the development of Leadville, there is no need to remind a Colorado miner. In the younger camp, however, there is a tendency to speak of the ore occurrences there to be seen as offering evidence contradictory to accepted theories as being in some vague manner a lusus naturae, as directly opposed to the experience of other regions Nothing is more incorrect Of no district can it be said more confidently than Cripple Creek that it illustrates and corroborates the most recent conclusions of economic geology, particularly as regards the intimate relationship between the ore bodies of the mine and the structure of the rock enclosing them There was, it is true, a time not long distant, when the proper conception of a true fissure vein was a straight, clean cut gaping crevasse filled with ore and traversing the mountains with the monotonous regularity of a sheet of paper, But wider experience has modified these views The enlargement of veins through the replacement of the encasing rock by metal bearing minerals deposited from waters circulating along lines of original, frequently quite minute, fissuring, has been demonstrated, while at the same time the rapid extension of underground exploration in widely separated regions has made it clear that lines of single solitary fissuring are rare, and that, on the contrary, multiple fissuring more generally characterizes the places of ore occurence

Its Characteristics.

This brings one to the chief characteristic of the Cripple Creek gold field I refer to that repetition of parallel fractures which may be best described as the "sheeting" of the country rock The miner will know at once what I mean Such veins as the Moose, Elkton, Anchor, Victor, etc., all exhibit this structure The vein, which usually consists of altered and mineralized country, is traversed by subdivisions parallel to the walls and along these clefts occur the gold and the tellurides which change barren rock into valuable ore. Beyond the walls of the vein and far out into parallel sheets it continues, although to a lesser degree The formation can be seen in a hand specimen, no less than blocks an acre big. It bears a close relation to the distribution of ore, because the multiple fissuring has permitted of the circulation of underground waters and the concentration of mineral aggregates

It is this fact which underlies the extraordinary multiplication of vein formation in the district, and renders it so necessary to emphasize the likelihood of the frequent occurrence of the companion veins, such as have already been found in some of the mines To the superintendent directing the work of development I would therefore say: Do not spare a small expenditure in crosscuts Do not rest content with the idea that any particular division of the rock, however well accompanied by rich ore, and though it be as smooth as a skating rink is the utmost limit of the ore channel. The rock beyond your main walls carries further fractures closely related to your vein and of a similar origin; these are likely to carry ore, and demand that you do not run the risk of losing excellent chances of further discovery by the lack of necessary amount of intelligent exploratory work.

A Few Practical Suggestions.

Cripple Creek was the child of Colorado's adversity. The collapse in silver mining which darkened the summer of 1893 diverted the energies of a very enterprising community to new fields of activity and concentrated the force of the brain and muscle of our State upon the development of the newly found region in El Paso county. Cripple Creek benefitted enormously by this combination of circumstances. It is also apt to suffer from it. There is a great deal of exaggeration in the air, not so much among miners themselves as among those who congregate at every booming camp and make a living by selling that which they have not got to those who do not want it It is forgotten that mining camps like mankind, though similar in general, are variable in detail. Every hole in the ground is not a second Independence. In each district there are some mines which are of an essentially superficial character. Caution and experience in distinguishing between restricted pockets and extensive ore chutes are as much needed in Cripple Creek as elsewhere. The different parts of the camp are very unlike There is, as is always the case, a good deal of time and money expended in work which is injurious and doomed to be unprofitable. The average of skill shown in the opening of the mines does not impress an experienced miner. There is a whole lot of amateur work to be seen.

It is pleasant to turn from considerations such as these to confirm the opinions of the best mining authorities that Cripple Creek is destined to a long continued prosperity, and to the attainment of a distinguished name in the annals of mining. Comparisons, such as are made daily, in a cheerfully irresponsible manner, with the mines in South Africa, are calculated to mislead. A rich camp, like Cripple Creek, which has a number of dividend paying mines, and whose productiveness, known gold bearing area, and successful development are daily on the increase, needs no comparison with other fields. Figures of production talk for themselves, dividends are splendidly expressive all the rest, unless made by men having actual knowledge of the things they speak of, only hurts us in the eyes of well informed investors who are looking this way Cripple Creek may or may not be the "biggest gold camp on earth" That is a large question It certainly does offer splendid opportunities for the successful investment of capital in well considered mining undertakings

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

New York Nov 8—Money on call is easy at 1½@2 per cent, last loan at 2 and closing offered at 2 per cent Prime mecantile paper 5½ per cent Bar silver 67⅝ Mexican dollars 51¼ Sterling exchange is strong with actual business in bankers bills at 4 87¼@88 for 60 days and 4 89@4 90 for demand Posted rates 4 88½@4 90, commercial bills 4 87@4 Government bonds firmer; State bonds dull railroad bonds easy Silver at the board was dull.

The feature of the railway and miscellaneous speculation to-day was the heavy selling of stocks for foreign account The sales for London and the Continent were estimated at 30 to 40 000 shares, the bulk of which was St. Paul, L and N. The feeling abroad was unsettled and nervous. In London consols had a break of nearly 1 per cent, a thing quite out of the ordinary, while the Paris markets were heavy The heaviness of the foreign markets is of course due in a great measure to the Armenian troubles but the over-speculation in South African mining stocks is also a contributing cause Paris was a large seller of securities in London and the latter in turn sold here The liquidations in this market stiffened, sterling exchange and cables sold as high as 4 89½ There will be no gold shipments to-morrow, however, but if the selling for London does not stop shortly bankers will not be surprised if shipments of the metal are resumed next week

Net changes show losses of ⅛@1⅞ per cent Total sales were 258,718 shares.

Bonds were lower. Sales were $1,335,000.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—On disquieting reports from Europe relative to political affairs, prices improved this morning Early advices gave a decline in English consols and stated that a situation almost approaching a panic prevailed on the Paris bourse. New York reported that London was selling stocks freely on this side It took some little time for the crowd to fully make up its mind on wheat, but when a decision was reached prices shot up with great rapidity, the notable buying being for the account of a prominent professional who was believed to be "short" of the market. Offerings were exceedingly light and fully one-half a cent advance was scored before the demand was satified. The rain which has been continuous for three days and heavy receipts here and in the northwest, 394 cars and 1,254 cars respectively, were effective arguments against prices early, but they were lost sight of in the flurry which afterwards took place.

Corn—Inactivity again reigned in corn. The indisposition on the part of traders to take hold either in the interest of higher or lower prices continued prominent and the fluctuations of the day were therefore slight and insignificant. The tone might be called firm, the strength which appeared in wheat and the continuation of the rainy weather furnishing the influence.

Receipts were 509 cars and were 109 more than expected. Withdrawals from store amounted to 149,815 bushels.

Liverpool cables were quiet and unchanged. Export clearances aggregated 93 341 bushels May corn opened at 29¾ sold at 29¼, closing at 29¾@¼, a shade higher than yesterday Estimated receipts for to-morrow 355 cars

A SUCCESS.

The management of the popular Gulf railway wish to thank the citizens of Colorado Springs and vicinity for the liberal patronage they have extended their new train, the Pike's Peak Express, which has been run for their especial accommodation for the past few months, and to announce that it has proven so satisfactory that the train is a permanent fixture, and will remain on all winter. Leaving for Denver at 8 10 a. m. and returning at 6.50 p. m., giving nearly a whole day in Denver for business.

Diseases unfriendly to women are positively cured by Dr. Sawyer's Pastilles. Ask your druggist for a free sample package. It heals and cures.

Children with pale, bluish complexions, indicating the absence of the requisite red globules in the blood should take Dr. Sawyer's Ukatine.

Experience and money cannot improve Dr. Sawyer's Family Cure, because it radically cures dyspepsia, liver complaint and kidney difficulty.

Dr. Sawyer:—
Dear Sir: I can say with pleasure that I have been using your medicine, and will recommend it to all suffering ladies.
